OPPOSITE PICTURE OF DRIED GINSENG WEIGHED
25 POUNDS

(According to our information)

According to the Department of Agriculture's Farmers Bulletin on Ginseng, it has sold as high as $17.57 per pound.

The present low price is due to an embargo on shipments to China. However there is a great profit at today's prices. All indications are that new trade with China will be restored and the present price should skyrocket. If you have planted you will reap the benefits of the GREAT CASH CROP.

Now it is easy to see why we say it is the GREATEST MONEY CROP.
